Let's Start!

My briefcase is on the chair. Where is your bag?

Learning Outcome

Accurately explain information about interests, hobbies, and preferences in communicative situations.

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about jobs and work.
- I can talk about the location of objects.
- I can ask and say who things belong to.

Ask your partner:

- Where do you keep accessories in an office?
- What do you keep in your wallet or bag?

Let's Explore!

Peter meets Amanda! She shares his cubicle!

* "His" is a possessive adjective. It goes before the noun cubicle.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Peter: Hi, I'm Peter. You're Amanda, right? We share the same cubicle.
Amanda: Hi, Peter. When do you work here?
Peter: I work in the mornings. What about you?
Amanda: I usually work afternoons.
Peter: Are these your books on the chair?
Amanda: Yes. Sometimes I leave them on the desk. When you need space, put them in here.
Peter: What's that?
Amanda: Beside the filing cabinet? It's my briefcase. I like to be organized.
Peter: What are those?
Amanda: These are my pushpins for our message board. Do you want some?
Peter: Thanks. Are you a student?
Amanda: I study design. I'm finishing soon. I hope to work here full-time after that. What about you?
Peter: I study business. I hope to run a company someday.
Amanda: Got to run! See you next time!

Let's Practice!

Whose books are these?
