Let's Start!

Come into the office. This is your cubicle!

Learning Outcome

Accurately explain information about interests, hobbies, and preferences in communicative situations.

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about jobs and work.
- I can talk about the location of objects.
- I can ask and say what things are.

Ask your partner:

- Can you describe the room you are in now?
- What objects do you see around you?

Let's Explore!

It's time for Peter to set up his cubicle!

* When you "set up" an area, you put things where you want them.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Silvia : Some people here work in offices, and others work in cubicles.
Peter: The offices look private and quiet. No distractions.
Silvia: Yes. This cubicle is yours. You share the cubicle with Amanda. She's an intern too.
Peter: Whose computer is this?
Silvia: This is your computer. That computer is Amanda's. Your message board is here, beside the computer.
Peter: Nice. Where are the supplies?
Silvia: There are some supplies in your drawers. Your trash can is under the desk.
Peter: My own desk! Cool!
Silvia: Everyone has their space and supplies.
Peter: What's this here?
Silvia: It's a filing cabinet. Amanda keeps her files here too.
Peter: It's a nice workspace. What's this on the desk?
Silvia: It's a key to the cabinet.
Peter: Wow! My own key!

Let's Practice!

Where is the trash can?

Instructions: Read the dialogue again. Read the clues on the left. Check off the correct box in the table.
