Let's Start!

Let's review!

Learning Outcome

Accurately explain information about interests, hobbies, and preferences in communicative situations.

Ask your partner:

- Who do you talk about work or school with? Friends? Family members?
- What do you tell them about your work?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about jobs and work.
- I can talk on the phone in a formal situation.
- I can make and respond to requests.
- I can ask for information at work.

Let's Explore!

Be there in an hour? No problem*.

* Responses to requests from friends are short. They sometimes have no verb.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Vanessa: Hey, Peter, how are you?

Peter: I'm good. I got a job!

Vanessa: Great!

Peter: This guy calls me and says: This is Fred Warren. This call is regarding your recent application.

Vanessa: So, how is it going?

Peter: I ask questions like: Where are you sending that website? When do you need that done?

Vanessa: Uh-huh.

Peter: I have to catalogue 1000 images! Oh boy!

Vanessa: Do you like the job?

Peter: Yeah. My cubicle is nice. There's a message board next to our computer and supplies!

Vanessa: So, do you want to go out for dinner?

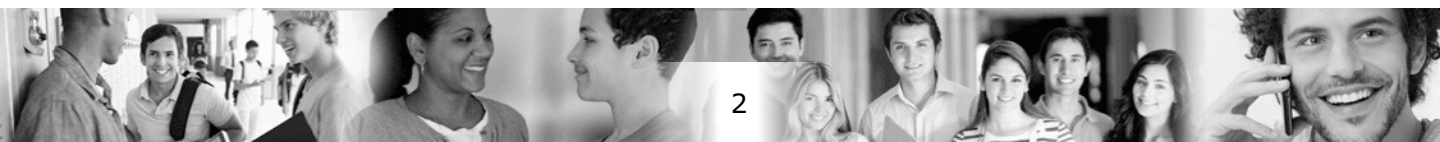

Peter: Can we go out for pizza?

Vanessa: Sure. Would you like to come to by my place first?

Peter: When?

Vanessa: Can you be here in an hour?

Peter: No problem. See you then!

Let's Practice!

It's all about work!

Instructions: Read the dialogue again. Select the correct answer.

1. Peter gets a formal call. The caller says ...
 - a. Fred Warren here.
 - b. This is Fred Warren.
 - c. Hi, I'm Fred Warren
2. Mr. Warren calls ...
 - a. rewarding Peter's application.
 - b. regarding Peter's call.
 - c. regarding Peter's recent application.
3. Peter asks questions at work. He says:
 - a. How is that website?
 - b. Are you send me that website?
 - c. Where are you sending that website?

Let's Practice!

Peter talks about his new job!

Instructions: Complete the sentences. Write the missing word. Use: catalogue, have to ask, next to our computer, a job, cubicle.

1. I got _____!
2. I have to _____ 1000 images!
3. My _____ is nice.
4. There's a message board _____ and supplies!
5. I _____ a lot of questions.

Learning Points

Making and Responding to Requests

You use modals like would and could in formal conversations to make and respond to requests.

The modal can is less formal. Less formal responses are short.

Formal	Less formal
Anne: I would like to speak to someone in the design department, please. Secretary: Could you wait, please?	Peter: Can we go out for pizza? Vanessa: Sure. Vanessa: Would you come to my place first? Peter: When? Vanessa: Can you be here in an hour? Peter: No problem.

Formal Phone Conversations

When you speak to an employer on the phone, you use polite, formal language. You can use the Simple Present tense to give information.

Formal Language	Informal Language
Hello, my name is ...	Hi, this is ... Hi, it's ...
I'd like to speak to Peter Smith, please. Can I please speak to ...	Is ... there? I want to talk to ...
This is ... I'm ...	Hello. Hi.

Examples:

- Mr Warren: Hello, my name is Fred Warren. I'd like to speak to Peter Smith, please.
- Peter: This is Peter Smith.
