Let's Start!

It's exciting to start a new job! Let's find out what happens!

Learning Outcome

Accurately explain information about interests, hobbies, and preferences in communicative situations.

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about jobs and work.
- I can ask and say what I do at work.
- I can ask and say what people are doing.

Ask Your Partner:

- How do you feel on a first day at a new school or job?
- What do you say to people?
- What do you tell them about yourself?

Let's Explore!

Ms.* Major welcomes Peter.

* "Ms." is a title like Mr., Miss and Mrs. You use "Ms." to address a professional woman.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Ms. Major: Peter, welcome to MechaTech.

Peter: Thank you.

Ms. Major: Silvia, please come and meet your new colleague, Peter Smith.

Silvia: Hi, Peter.

Ms. Major: What are you doing now, Silvia? I'm going to a meeting. Are you free to show Peter around?

Silvia: I can do that, Ms. Major.

Silvia: I'm building a new website this week. It's interesting.

Peter: Wow. I worked on websites at college. Maybe I can help you one day.

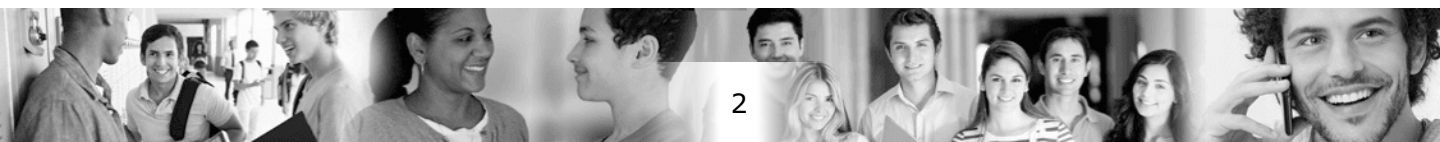

Silvia: The interns help everyone. I don't know who you are helping first.

Peter: Do you usually work online?

Silvia: Yes. I create graphics and fonts online for the marketing team.

Peter: Is your job always different?

Silvia: Yes. I'm always doing new things. That's why I like it!

Let's Practice!

It's Peter's first day! Who does he meet?

Learning Points

The Simple Present

You use the Simple Present tense to ask and say what you do at a job.

Questions	Statements
What do you do here? What do I do today? Do you usually work online?	I work on websites. I don't know what to work on first. Yes. I create computer graphics.

Examples:

• Tom: What do you do here?

Anne: I work on websites.

The Present Continuous

You use the Present Continuous tense to ask and say what you are doing at work now.

You often use time markers like now, at the moment or this week with the Present Continuous tense.

Questions	Statements
What are you doing now? Am I working with you today? Are you doing the same task?	I'm working on a new website this week. I don't know who you are working with first. I'm always doing something different.

Examples:

• Dan: What are you doing now?

Erica: I'm going to a meeting.
